OWNING MAHOWNY

Brian Mahowny was a rising star at the Canadian Imperial Bank of Commerce. At twenty-four he was assistant manager of a major branch in the heart of Toronto's financial district. To his colleagues he was a workaholic. To his customers he was astute, decisive and helpful. To his friends he was a quiet, but humorous man who enjoyed watching sports on the television. To his girlfriend he was shy but engaging. None of them knew the other side of Brian Mahowny -- the side that executed the largest single handed bank fraud in Canadian history, grossing over $10 million in eighteen months to feed his gambling obsession.

Brian Mahowny era una ascendente figura en el Banco Imperial de Comercio de Canadá. A los veinticuatro años era asistente de gerencia de sucursal más importante en el distrito financiero de Toronto. Para sus colegas Brian era un trabajador compulsivo, sus clientes lo consideraban astuto, decidido y de mucha ayuda, para sus amigos el era tranquilo, pero un hombre de buen humor que disfrutaba viendo deportes en la televisión. Para su novio era tímido pero encantador. Ninguno de ellos conocía el otro lado de Brian, el lado que ejecutó el fraude más grande en la historia de Canadá por un total de $10 millones de dólares en dieciocho meses para poder saciar su vicio del juego.
