

THE MAGIC PUDDING

Bunyip Bluegum (voiced by Geoffrey Rush) is a koala who doesn't know where his parents are. Although his uncle and some of the other animals think they're dead, Bunyip believes they're still alive, despite disappearing many years earlier. He sets out to find them. On his way, he meets a sailor Bill Barnacle (Hugo Weaving) and a penguin Sam Sawnoff (Sam Neill); who have an unusual companion, Albert (John Cleese) a magic pudding. No matter how much anyone eats of Albert, he magically replenishes, and can even turn into any type of pudding desired. But their path leads to the disagreeable Buncle (Jack Thompson), an angry wombat whose sole desire is to possess Albert for himself.
